

Steel Detailer

RJ Russo established in 2007 is a fast-paced growing steel fabrication & erection company is seeking a full time Steel Detailer. The Detailer is integral team member within the company. They are responsible for providing accurate drawings and communicating project details to the team for all assigned scopes of work performed. We are seeking a candidate that is eager to learn and develop a personal skillset that will lead to career growth within company.

Job Duties:

- Works under close supervision with Sr Architect; receives specific and detailed instructions as to required tasks and results expected with limited opportunity to exercise judgement
- Develops drawings, updates drawings layout of equipment, mechanical, electrical layout, architectural and structural. Using AutoCAD, Advanced Steel & Revit to update drawing and create models as well as provide material take-offs (PlanGrid, Salesforce, Customer Tracking Software- Procore)
- Works closely with Engineer of Record, General Contractor, Architect to develop strategies, update designs and draft red lines and markups
- Works well with Shop Personnel, Project Manager, Field Superintendents & Foreman to provide pertinent information to the project
- Follow AISC detailing process to assure the incorporation of customer requirements into using shop and erection drawings
- All detailing will be performed in accordance with the most recent contract documents, including contract drawings, specifications and RFIs
- Assigned Drafter is responsible to review the Scope of Work, design drawings, plans and specifications, including addenda and special instructions.
- Any questions or issues not discovered during the initial contract review process that will affect shop/erections drawings will be noted and considered for the RFI process
- The Sr Architect will compare shop drawings to the project's requirements, Issues to review include, but are not limited to: geometry, dimensions, use of the correct connections, Proper notes, proper material usage, assignment of complete welding symbols, proper coatings and preparation, proper representation on erection drawings including the notation of any necessary instructions and depiction of details necessary to conduct the work in the field

Requirement:

- 3-5+ years' experience with drafting (preferably steel) or Mechanical Engineering Degree
- AutoCAD experience is a must have and REVIT & Advance Steel a big plus
- A multi-discipline background of someone with interest in design and drafting in multiple disciplines (mechanical, electrical, architectural & structural)
- Good communication skills, work with clients
- Ability to learn, take direction and develop
- Must be able to get hands dirty when developing shop fabrication with shop personnel

Benefits

- PTO, Health Insurance, 401k w/company match, Dental Insurance, Vision Insurance (waiting period may apply, only for full-time employees eligible)

Full-Time Position

- Monday-Friday 8-4:30 PM

Pay

- Hourly- $22.00 to $38.00

How to Apply: email- sales@rjrusso.com